I recently discovered this addicting game and i want to share my opinion with you...

...it's quite simple and very funny, it takes just few minutes a day and, even if there is still not a traduction in Italian, it is very easy to use this very awesome F1 managing game. Try to manage your own team by hiring drivers, specialists and buy/manage your garage and cars; every character has one action a day and, with a little bit of patience, you can build a strong team even without using real money (you can reach same levels as people who buy "bolts", the game's value, just in more time). Try it and enjoy yourself!
